

TVI.COM Privacy Policy

Last updated: September 18, 2017

TVI.COM provides the easiest way to start or watch a live video broadcast. TVI.COM services (“Services”) are covered by the TVI.COM Privacy Policy, which describes how we treat your information when you use our Services.

TVI.COM Services are designed to help you broadcast live video all around the world.

When you broadcast a video, your broadcast is visible to all users that are signed in to the same TVI.COM network. This includes the metadata provided with your broadcast, such as when and where you broadcast. When you watch others’ broadcasts, information regarding when you watched the video (for example, either live or on replay) and any comments are also visible.

If you choose to create or update an account, you may provide some personal information, such as your profile information. Your profile information on TVI.COM is available to anyone on your TVI.COM network and includes your name, username, biography information, profile picture, the people you follow and who follows you.

We use and store information about your location to provide features of our Services, such as broadcasting with your location, and to improve and customize the Services. We may infer your location based on information from your device. If you have turned on location services for TVI.COM, we may share your precise location.

For more information or if you have specific questions about our Privacy Policy, please contact the Company any time at support@tvi.com.
